- Full 360°

360° seamless display with constant eye-relief for accurate immersive training environment

- High Fidelity

Equipped with high-end simulation graded projectors for highest dynamic resolution

- Compact footprint

Engineered to reduce the necessary floor space

- High Uptime

Each visual display component is chosen and developed to maximize operation time

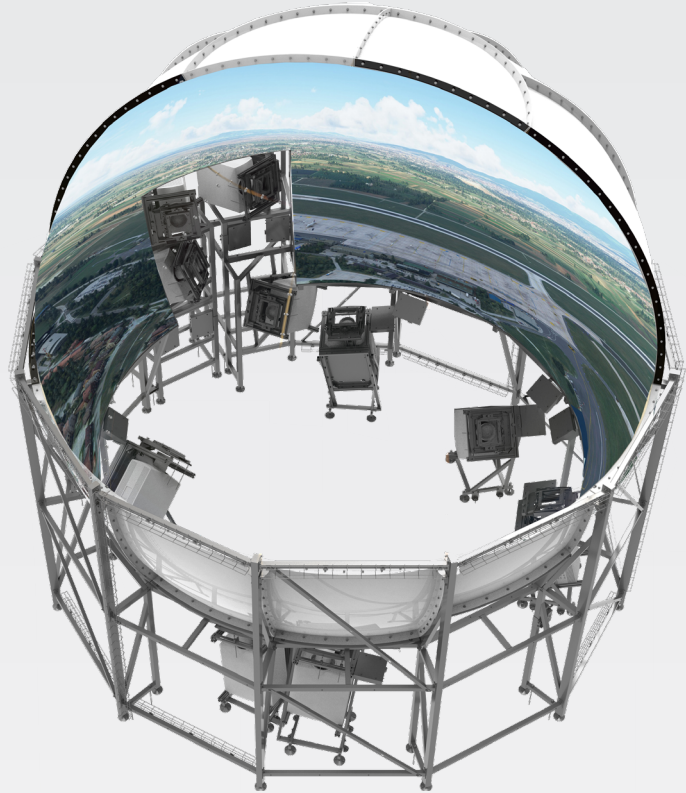

Experience a new level of full seamless immersive training with TREALITY's FP-360c Front Projection Compact display solution. Thanks to the 360° full immersion capabilities of the FP-360c and high dynamic resolution, pilots are immersed in realistic training environment.

For each training mission, the FP-360c is designed to exceed your simulation requirements with minimal footprint. With a system resolution of 4 arcmin/OLP and 120Hz smear-free performance every detail comes to life, creating a unique visual experience.

TREALITY FP-360c's high uptime, guaranteeing continuous operation with minimum of maintenance interventions. Elevating simulation training without compromising on cost efficiency and maintenance.

Broadest portfolio of visual solutions for simulation and training

Treality SVS stands out as the only independent provider of turnkey display systems, dedicated to delivering comprehensive visual solutions for our customers. We manage projects from conceptual design through every stage of engineering, manufacturing, installation, and integration. Following deployment, we offer maintenance support well beyond a product's end of life. By customizing the system to meet your specific needs and overseeing every phase of the system's lifecycle, we ensure not only superior visual quality but also maximum reliability at the lowest total lifecycle cost.

Trusted & Preferred

Our turnkey visualization systems are constructed using premium TREALITY SVS-designed products. We choose the components from our extensive portfolio that best match your requirements to create the perfect systems for you. We support our customers throughout the visual display's lifecycle and professionally support MRO activities with our decades of expertise.
